Full Release:

The Live The Dream Tour Foundation has its first two Youth Ambassadors in rising stars Ty Waters and Kayley Stallings, Both artists will be introduced at the LTDTF Gala Fundraiser on Saturday, July 23, 2016 at the Wilshire Ebell Theater in Los Angeles, CA., The event will begin at 6 PM with a star-studded red carpet event in front of the theatre located at 4401 West 8th Street in Los Angeles. The concert begins at 7:30 PM.

Though only ten, Ty Waters is poised for greatness in American popular music. This child prodigy singer from Vancouver, Canada, has already wowed artists from Michael Bubl  to Bobby McFerrin, performed at the infamous Carnegie Hall three times after winning American Protege's Vocal Competitions, and brought a crowd of a 100,000 to rapture in Santa Barbara with his devastating rendition of "At Last," made famous by the great Etta James. Ty also performed in Harlem's famed Apollo Theatre and has been invited to sing there again. What's more, as he moves into the world of composition and recording, Waters is making surprisingly mature and timely statements about the state of the country and the world. Waters has just completed his debut album, Only Human. The title track and video rolled out on the KKFY (Fox 11) morning show on July 20, a first taste of what this remarkable young man has to offer the world. He's a prodigy of the Ultimate Vocal Music Summit, the youngest artist to be signed by BMI, and he has co-written a song with multi-platinum and Grammy winners, Michael Jay, Randy Waldman, and Dawn Elder, the title-track, Only Human, which will be released August 4th worldwide. Wanting to inspire world peace even at this age, Ty Waters realized that peace begins within. His video was just released and his album is out Oct 5th.

Kayley Stallings has been writing and performing songs since she was 8 years old, and will release her first full-length CD in August of 2016. It is being produced by Michael Durio and promoted by Paris 5000 and A&M Promotions. She is an accomplished actress who has appeared in commercials, TV, and film, and has two films being released this year. You can also catch her in Dr. Dre's new TV show, "Vital Signs". Kayley was chosen as the winner in the ReverbNation contest to perform at the Live The Dream Tour Gala and will be continuing on as a Youth Ambassador to the tour.

The LTDTF Gala Fundraiser concert will also feature the artists from the upcoming Live The Dream Tour: Nikkole, Jon Mullane, Melissa B., Bob Malone, Jody Quine, Chuck Murphy, Ron Deuce, a Movement in the Air (Connor Chee), and special musical guests including The Emotions ("Best of My Love"), Dawnn Lewis, and many more, who will join the tour acts on stage and participate in the exciting finale.

VIP ticket holders will be invited to participate in a meet and greet event after the concert to include the tour artists, the new youth ambassadors, and many of the celebrity guests.
